Great To See You

By Theresa Rebeck

Directed by Ingrid Lieb

Setting

A restaurant in the U.S. Heartland

Cast

Jamie Bishop - Rudy

Anna-Grace Johnson - Jill

Kate Simechak - Liza

"For Page to Stage, I wanted to work on something that played with the layers in relationships. That's why Great To See You stuck out to me so much in my first reading. In all of the subtext between the relationships, I saw something that might be relatively simple in appearance, but deeper in meaning behind every interaction."

"Great To See You" is presented by arrangement with Concord Theatricals on behalf of Samuel French, Inc.

After You

By Stephen Dietz

Directed by Whitney Bishop

Setting

A living room

Cast

Macy Sauls - Amy

Caleb Quick - Ben

"After You stuck out to me when I read it for the first time, not only because of its strange stage business, because of how raw and honest it felt. After you explores the complexity of closure vs. rekindling. I am honored to have the opportunity to tell this story with such an amazing cast and crew."

Jars

By Jordan Moriell
Directed by Lily Kate Gwin

Setting

A treehouse in the woods

Cast

Avery Gallahar - Heely Martin
Riley Turberville - Shyne Sutton

“Jars tells the story of a searing yet nostalgic kind of love that lives unrepresented and hidden in the shadows. I am honored and excited to be given the opportunity to tell this story, and I am incredibly thankful for the two actresses that were willing to do it with me. Riley and Avery came into this process with such professionalism and grace. I could not have asked for a better pair to illustrate the story of Heely and Shyne. I thank them for their support and patience with me as a director and for their willingness to go with me into the gushy and vulnerable.”

Greensleeves

By Joyce Carol Oates

Directed by Dawson James Tidwell

Setting

A park in the city

Cast

Natalie Janney - Tamara

John Alloway - Leon

"I have truly enjoyed working with this play! Reading it for the first time, it really struck me in a way that I knew I had to put this work up. Having these talented actors represent this work has been very rewarding, and I am thankful for the opportunity to present it to my university!"

Produced pending permission of the publisher.

A Tale of Two Spectators

By Peter Manis

Directed by Leanna Lake

Setting

A Park, evening

Cast

John Ingram- Man

Lexi Williams - Woman

“In a park, a man and a woman secretly watch their respective spouses carry on an affair. As time goes on, we realize they have been meeting like this to watch their spouses for quite some time and have even developed something of a bond with each other, despite their predicament. And perhaps they have discovered a little more about themselves and their lives, as well.”

Night Swim

By Julia Jordan

Directed by Kelsey Dunahoo

Setting

Christina's bedroom, midnight

Cast

Maggie Scarbrough - Christina
Izzy Braddock - Rosie

"I was so intrigued by the tenderness of Night Swim from the very first read. These teenaged girls balance their fears with their love for each other so beautifully, and I'm so grateful to the cast for their portrayal. I think we can all find ourselves relating to both Rosie's desire for midnight adventure and Christina's trepidation as she recalls the past."

Theatricals on behalf of Samuel French, Inc.*

Dancing in the Elevator

By Dorethea Cahan

Directed by Ashleigh Braswell

Setting

An apartment

Cast

Sydney Broach - Marushka

Elizabeth Odee - Kate

“Dancing in the Elevator is a beautiful piece that explores the “curses” we put on ourselves and learning to love yourself. I have been honored to work with this play and these actors to bring the story to life.”

Naomi In the Living Room

By Christopher Durang
Directed by Abigail Dean

Cast

Emma Thomason - Naomi

Caden Blackwell - John

Victoria Tidwell - Johnna

Naomi in the Living Room magnifies the quite chaotically complex relationship that John, his wife Johnna, and his mother Naomi share. While I encourage you to laugh along with us, I challenge you to view them as more than merely crazy.
